Cooking like a boss

These pans can take a beating and continue to perform even under the most intense cooking conditions. Make the most of your cooking skills and let the Forged pans do the heavy lifting for you. Perfect for frying eggs, pancakes or stews, they are also ideal for everyday meals and meat. Meat gets a nice crispy crust by frying in these pans.

By "seasoning" the pan you create a natural coating, which makes our pans durable and PFAS-free. It also prevents rust in many cases. Should it happen that your product does rust a bit, just maintain it with the Forged maintenance kit and it will be like new again.

The pans are made for real kitchen heroes who do not want to compromise. With proper use and maintenance, the pans will last a lifetime!

Indispensable wooden showpieces in the kitchen

Discover Forged's robust cutting boards from the Essentials series. These high-quality cutting boards are made of FSC-certified acacia wood, ensuring durability and environmental friendliness. The natural edges give the board an authentic look. The design includes a handy, deep juice trench that prevents moisture from spilling onto your worktop. With two handles on the sides, the cutting board is easy to pick up and move, and the non-slip feet provide extra stability. The Forged maintenance kit will keep it in top condition.

Available in Medium and Large sizes. Indispensable for every culinary warrior!

Maintenance kit

Contents: 1 x metal polish, 1 x metal oil,
1 x wood wax, 3 x different cloths

Function by maintenance product:

- The metal paste removes rust and tarnish from Forged knives and our steel pans.
- The metal oil (eugenia oil) provides a protective layer on the blade of the knife. This product is also great for preventing unnecessary rust on our Forged pans.
- The wood wax (beeswax) nourishes the wooden handle and prevents it from drying out. It is also great for maintaining our cutting boards and leather knife rolls.
